

Thomas Jefferson
University

JCLS Science Slam Info session

1/23/2024

Ivette Martorell Serra

VP Academic Affairs - GSA

What is Science Slam?

- Science communication competition
- Goal: Explain your research
 - Short talk
 - An understandable and entertaining way
 - For non-expert audience
- The audience is the judge and jury!

Overview

When? Thursday,
March 7th, 6-8
pm

Where? Venture
Café at University
City Science Center

Cash prizes!

Free snacks & beverage tickets

JCLS Science Slam

The venue: Venture Café

- At University City Science Center
- Address: 3675 Market St, 3rd floor
- Website: <https://sciencecenter.org/programs/venture-cafe>
- Thursday gatherings (4-8 pm): weekly, free gatherings to connect with makers, doers and thought leaders across the region.

JCLS
Science
Slam

The venue: Venture Café

Event format

- 6 presenters
 - Application form will be sent today
 - Deadline: Monday, January 29th at 11:59pm
- 5 min talk
- 10 min audience discussion
- Audience seated in groups

Created by Thirasak

Event format - presentation

- 5 min long
- Graphic & Visual
 - 1 picture per slide is encouraged!
- Tips on how to make a presentation: Pam Walter, Director of the Office for Professional Writing, Publishing, and Communication
- Contact previous participants:
 - Melissa Molho Medina - 1st place winner: mym236@jefferson.edu
 - Sushrut Shah - 3rd place winner: Sushrut.Shah@students.jefferson.edu

Event format - voting

JCLS
Science
Slam

- Each audience group will have a voting card
- 10 min discussion after each presentation
- Voting cards will be collected at the end & points counted
- Tie-breaker - 1 min curious/interesting fact about their research

JCLS SCIENCE SLAM

1st place (50 points): _____

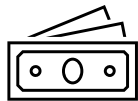

2nd place (25 points): _____

3rd place (10 points): _____

Organized by JCLS Graduate Student Association

JCLS Science Slam - prizes

$50 just to participate

Septa tickets to go to the venue

JCLS Science Slam - important dates

Jefferson.edu

HOME OF SIDNEY KIMMEL MEDICAL COLLEGE